A WOMAN EXECUTED.

Vermont Murderess Dies On Scaffold at Windsor.

KILLED HER HUSBAND.

She Died With The Courage
And Nerve of A Man.

Windsor, Vt., Dec. 8.—Without a tremor and without a word Mrs. Mary Mabel Rogers today march to her death on the gallows at the State prison here. To all appearances Mrs. Rogers was the calmest person in the chamber of death. She faced her end with the same stoical indifference that had marked her demeanor ever since her arrest more than three years ago.

Greatly to the relief of those officials who were assisting in executing the sentence, Mrs. Rogers' last hours were remarkably free from harrowing incident. It had been feared that the woman's wonderful nerve would desert her at the final moment and that she would be carried to the scaffold in a state of collapse. Instead, however, Mrs. Rogers met death bravely.

The crime for which Mrs. Mary Mabel Rogers was sentenced to death was the murder of her husband, Marcus Rogers, at Bennington, August 13, 1902. At the time the crime was committed, Mrs. Rogers was only nineteen years old. She had been separated from her husband for some time, and was desirous of marrying a young man named Maurice Knap. On the day of the murder, Marcus Rogers went to Bennington to visit his wife, and that night she arranged to meet him in the woods near the Walloomsac river. While caressing him she induced him to allow her to bind his hands, and while he was powerless, she chloroformed him. In this she was aided by Leon Perham, a half-witted boy, who was the son of the woman with whom she boarded. Another woman, Estella Bates, was present.

After chloroforming Rogers, Perham and Mrs. Rogers rolled the body into the river, where it was found the next day.

Boy Makes Confession.

A few days after the murder Mrs. Rogers, Perham and the Bates woman were arrested. Perham made a complete confession, and both he and Mrs. Rogers were found guilty of murder in the first degree. Perham was sentenced to imprisonment for life, while the verdict in Mrs. Rogers' case was death on the gallows.

NEW WEEKLY PAPER.

H. M. Massie, of Christian,
Secretary of Company.

The "La Center Advance" is the name of a new weekly paper to be started at La Center, Ky., this week. The initial number will appear Thursday and will be issued by the La Center Printing Co. Mr. Henry M. Massie, formerly of Pembroke, and for some time cashier of the Bank of Lafayette, is secretary of the new company. He has been connected with the Bank of La Center for a year or more. John M. Moore is president of the printing company and J. B. White will be business manager.

Sent to Reform School.

Woodson Moore, col., aged about sixteen years, charged with petty larceny, was brought before Judge Fowler Saturday. The boy was ordered taken to the school of reform at Lexington. He was taken to Lexington at once by Deputy Sheriff Tate.

The Weather.

For Kentucky: Tuesday, increasing cloudiness, brisk southerly winds.

U. S. SENATOR DIED FRIDAY.

Hon. J. H. Mitchell, of Oregon, Slowly Bleeds to Death.

AFTER AN OPERATION.

Was in Weakened State Following Recent Troubles and Sickness.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 8.—United States Senator John H. Mitchell died at the Good Samaritan Hospital at 11:40 o'clock this forenoon, death resulting from complications which followed the removal of four teeth at a dental office yesterday morning. Hemorrhage of unusual severity followed the removal of the teeth, and, despite the application of the most powerful styptics known to medical science, the flow of blood could not be stayed.

When the senator reached the hospital he was in a very weakened condition, and it became apparent that unless the flow of blood was soon stopped life would pass out.

Senator Mitchell had long been a sufferer from diabetes, and other vitiating diseases, and in his weakened physical condition, rapidly succumbed to the inevitable weakness following such violent hemorrhages, and lapsed into a state of semi-unconsciousness, from which he never rallied.

John Hippie Mitchell was born in Washington county, Pa., June 22, 1836. He was serving his fourth term in the senate.

It was only when his connection with a conspiracy to defraud the government of its public domain was made manifest by his conviction in the Federal court, that he lost the political influence which he had held for a greater part of a half century.

From his seventieth birthday, June 23 last, the day on which his guilt was decreed, Senator Mitchell has rapidly declined.

Senator Mitchell's wife is in Paris, France, where she has spent a large part of her time since the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to the Duke of Rochefoucauld. A son, John H. Mitchell, Jr., resides at Minneapolis. Lieut. Hiram Mitchell, U. S. A., is also a son of the senator.

SOLD FARM

And Will Probably Move
West.

Mr. C. B. Meacham, who resides on the Greenview road, about three miles East of the city, has sold his farm to Mr. R. A. Elgin, of this place. The price paid was $3,300. There are 105 acres in the tract. Mr. Meacham is thinking of going West about the first of the year.

LAST SERMON

Preached By Rev. J. M.
Jones Sunday Night.

Rev. Joseph M. Jones, assistant pastor of the Baptist church, preached his final sermon Sunday night, before leaving for Madisonville to enter upon his work there. He leaves with the good wishes of many friends made during his residence of six months in the city.

CARL FARMER.

Otho Petty, a young farmer and much esteemed citizen of the Carl neighborhood, died last Thursday. He was 23 years old and a member of the Baptist church. He is survived by his widow. The deceased had been married less than a year. He was a son of Mr. Frank Petty. The interment took place Friday, in the family burying ground.

MOB IN OHIO

Makes Demonstration Against Imperial Tobacco Man.

Trisler, Ky., Dec. 9.—Trisler came near being the scene of war last evening. Mr. Lou Hazelrigg, of Owensboro, traveller for the Imperial Tobacco Co., was in this community yesterday and bought several crops of tobacco paying good prices. He stopped for the night with Mr. J. M. Mason. A number of farmers, hearing of Mr. Hazelrigg's presence, organized a band of over one hundred persons and at midnight went to the house and called for Mr. Hazelrigg, declaring that they had come for him and would have him or die. Mr. Mason and his sons prepared to defend their guest. Mr. John Mason, of Fordsville, who has been traveling with Mr. Hazelrigg, begged the men not to make a "scene" there at his father's house, and promised to meet them on the morrow. Mrs. Mason, seeing the mob, fainted, and it required much work to restore her. She is still quite ill.

After seeing that the inmates of the house were prepared to defend themselves, the mob dispersed.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Burglar Enters G. W. Allen's
Store at Garrettsburg.

Mr. G. W. Allen's general merchandise store at Garrettsburg was entered by a burglar Saturday night. Entrance was effected by prizing open a window. Mr. Allen has the postoffice in his store and the thief secured about $30 in stamps and $5 or $6 in cash from the office. He opened the store safe, but got no money from that, as the proprietor had taken the cash to his house with him, on closing up Saturday night. The burglar left no clue. Bloodhounds were taken to the scene of the robbery early Sunday morning, but they failed to make out a trail. The only articles of merchandise missed were two razors, though the thief may have taken other goods. The stock of goods was considerably torn up, probably in an effort to locate more cash.

General store and postoffice at Hood, Boone county, robbed of goods money and stamps.

Henry Spears, President of Agriculture Bank of Paris, fell dead in bathroom of his home.

LOST HIS WATCH

While Watching the Lady
Ride Astride.

While the cowgirl was riding the bucking broncho Saturday afternoon on Main street, Mr. B. W. Harned was deprived of his time piece. It was lifted from his vest pocket by the fob and was not moved until the show was over. The watch was a valuable silver watch, worn for many years by the owner who prized it highly. The robbery was probably committed by a sneak-thief as regular pickpockets prefer money and diamonds to watches, which can be identified by their numbers.

SENATOR TILLMAN

Secures Passage of a Resolution to Investigate Banks.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The subject of campaign contributions by insurance companies occupied the major portion of the time of the Senate yesterday. It came up in connection with Mr. Tillman's resolution calling for an investigation of national banks' payment of campaign contributions and was exploited by the South Carolina Senator in a speech of some length. The address dealt with the President's recommendations for the punishment of bribes in elections, with Senator Platt's testimony before the New York Insurance Investigating Committee and with other pertinent matters. It was couched in characteristic language and attracted considerable attention.

The resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to report whether the reports of the national examiners show that the banks have made campaign contributions in recent years was adopted at the close of Mr. Tillman's remarks.

MRS. BERTHA K. BAKER

At The Tabernacle December 19 And 20.

It is with great pleasure that we announce the coming of the mistress of the spoke word, and we feel sure that our patrons will appreciate four efforts in procuring such entertainments. At this time Mrs. Baker is enroute East, and we have signed her for the above dates through her New York agency. Her repertoire is quite extensive including the following attractive programmes: Parsifal, L'Aiglon (The Eaglet), Cyrano de Bergerac, If I were King, Maid of Orleans, Armagart, Romeo and Juliet, etc. etc.

We want our patrons to have their choice in the selection of programs, and want them to drop the undersigned a postal indicating their choice. We will hold this part of the engagement open for one week, and then make up programs in accordance with requests sent in. Mrs. Baker will give three programs in Hopkinsville, Tuesday night, Dec. 19, Wednesday afternoon and night, Dec. 20. So there will be three selections to make. Please let us have your reply promptly. This is the most attractive series of entertainments ever given in Hopkinsville, and if you will come out the opening night we have no fear of the financial outcome. The prices are as low as we can make them, considering the cost of the attraction. To season ticket holders, who will go to two performances, the price of reserved seats will be 50c each. To those who hold no season tickets the price will be reserved seats 75c each, two programs $1.25. Tickets for this entertainment may be found at Anderson & Fowler's drug store, from any member of the U. R. K. P. or the undersigned. This attraction is not on the course but is an extra. H. L. McPherson, Sec.-Treas.

Judge E. B. Sherman, United States Circuit Court, Chicago, says: "I have listened to Murdoch, Scott-Siddons and many others of the best artists of the time, and in my judgment Mrs. Kunz Baker is the peer of the greatest—primum inter pares."

Her mobility of face and feature, her flexibility of utterance and sweetness of tone, her consummate skill in ranging the gamut of passion, and yet relieving its stress by delicate humor and softening its fierceness with pathos, her masterful ease and constant charm—all these and other qualities too evasive to catch and too delicate to describe, combine to make her renditions a delight which can never be forgotten. And this tribute is not gaudy rhetoric but a sincere expression of appreciation.

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is THE magazine. Who?

FIRST—THE PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a number, for over thirteen hundred two-column pages of reading matter. This amounts in actual bulk to twenty-five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short story writers on timely articles, the best writers of important series, such as Schurz's Reminiscences or Baker's Railroad articles.

THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next twelve months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and rebates and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is never a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.

McClure's Magazine

in your home is intended to work only for good. Send $1.00 to-day for one year's subscription, or leave an order at your bookstore. November and December free with new subscriptions for 1906.

WHY BUCK'S HOT BLAST

Heater Will Actually Pay For Itself.

Because Buck's Hot Blast will produce as much heat and as satisfactory a fire in every way, by using the cheapest dollar and a quarter coal, slack or screenings, as other heaters in which you must use high grade soft coal or hard coal. You can see at a glance how soon this saving in fuel will make a Buck's Hot Blast actually pay for itself. It is not the first cost of stove that counts so much, it is what you have to pay to feed it, in coal.

This is the "Buck's Stove."

Lord Palmerston once said of the Schleswig-Holstein question that he believed it had been mastered by only one person, and he was a very astute German professor who had died shortly afterwards in a lunatic asylum. Whether anybody outside a narrow circle of Viennese specialists has succeeded in mastering the Austro-Hungarian problem is doubtful, for it is far more complicated than even the bewildering tangle of the question of the Danube duchies. The latter, at any rate, dealt with political conditions within the scope of natural law, while the Austro-Hungarian problem belongs to the category of impossibilities of which the squaring of the circle is the classic type. It is an effort to establish political harmony and union where all the elements are in fundamental conflict, and this effort is made by means of an alliance between two ostensibly liberal constitutions, the basis of which is the oppression of the majority of the population by two mutually antagonistic minorities. These extraordinary factors, too, operate under conditions which are all eccentric, and in which neither the course of history nor the evolution of national character is amenable to any logical process. To understand in detail the anarchy which now reigns in the dual monarchy one must go back to the famous compromise of 1867, by which the modern relations of Austria and Hungary are supposed to be regulated. Previously to this compromise the unity of the empire was assured by an absolutism as real and as central as that which exists in Russia to day. This state of affairs, however, was suddenly shaken to its foundations by the cruel blow of Sadowa. The Hapsburg dynasty, with its German oligarchy, found itself at the mercy of the Magyars and the various Slav nationalities, each of which was ready to tear the hated emperor to pieces. This dilemma, the dynasty with its German following resolved to come to terms with the most powerful of its enemies, and thus the compromise with Hungary was effected. Its root idea was expressed with brutal frankness by Count Beust, when he said to Franz Deak, "Take care of your horses, and we will take care of ours." The "horses" in question were for the Hungarians—the Croats, Serbians, Rumanians and Slovaks, and for the Austrians, the Czechs, Slovaks, Dalmatians, Poles and Ruthenians. In each country, these alien nationalities—In the case of Hungary the local Germans have to be added—formed a coalition of the two largest minorities, the Germans in Austria and Austria in Hungary. At the same time the absolutist regime was abolished, and Austria was endowed with parliamentary institutions similar to those of Hungary on the assumption that in this way the smooth operation of the dual machine would be assured. The system would have worked very well if the quite reasonable anticipations on which it was based had been realized. In two main respects this has not been the case, and it must be admitted that the fault lies chiefly with the Austrians. From the very beginning the two parties to the compromise interpreted it differently. The Austrians regarded it as the mechanism of a union in which they were the predominant partner; the Hungarians, on the other hand, conceived it as an alliance of two states independent of each other in every respect except the link of the crown and the common affairs prescribed in the compromise itself. This conflicting état d'esprit has poisoned the relations of the two states at the roots. It has been aggravated by other misunderstandings and accidents. Thus, Hungary and not Austria was in reality and has always remained the predominant partner. The compromise was virtually made at her dictation. She had the knife at the throat of Austria in the dark year of 1867, and the compromise was consequently a capitulation to her wishes. Since then her predominance has strengthened year by year, owing to the fact that the Magyars enjoy a more perfect cohesion than the Germans in Austria. The mortification thus produced in Austria is accentuated by another curious fact. In order to give the illusion of her predominance a semblance of reality, she agreed in the compromise that she should pay two-thirds of the common expenses, while Hungary should only pay one-third. Thus while the Magyars call the tune, it is always the Austrians who pay the piper. The other main respect in which the compromise has broken down is in the falsification of the assumption that in the two halves of the dual monarchy the dominant minorities would pursue a like career. So far from this being the case, the very reverse has happened. While the Magyars have, for the most part, remained united, and their constitution has worked, if not quite smoothly, at any rate effectively, the Germans in Austria have become split up into factions, which have aggravated all the normal anarchical conditions, and have ended by paralyzing the whole constitution. Hungary has remained a constitutional state, while Austria has virtually returned to absolutism. In the light of these leading facts it will not be difficult to understand the present crisis. Since 1875 the pretensions of the Magyars, encouraged by the growing embarrassments of Austria, have gradually expanded, until to-day they aim at nothing less than the complete independence of Hungary, subject only to a common dynasty. From 1867 to 1875 the Dualists were in a majority in the diet with a conservative policy scrupulously framed on the compromise. This party was overturned by the liberals under Koloman Tisza, who was in favor of internal reforms and of a stronger nationalism in the relations with Austria. For over a quarter of a century the liberals remained in power, consolidating the kingdom and rendering it year by year more powerful. They continued, however, faithful to both the letter and the spirit of the compromise, and in this they owed their undoing. The consciousness of national strength seemed to certain patriots incompatible with the restrictions of the compromise, and so in 1898 an independence party arose, which endeavored to attain its ends by a system of obstruction in the diet. For some years this party did little else than bring the diet to a state of chaos resembling that of the reichsrath in Vienna; but in 1902 it found a platform on which it was enabled to make an effective appeal to the people. This was the demand for a national army, in which the words of command should be given in Magyar instead of, as at present, in German. The liberals opposed the scheme on the ground that the unity of the army was one of the chief links between the two states, and in this attitude they were strongly supported by the crown.

It is on this scheme that the two parties have now joined issue. In Austria the scheme is opposed to two reasons—one, a nationalist, the other exclusively German. The nationalists declare that the army is the one institution in the empire which has been kept free of the struggle of nationalities, and that this is chiefly owing to the linguistic limitation. They urge, too, that this unity of the army is indispensable for the effective protection of the empire and for the maintenance of its dignity among the great powers. The German argument cannot be so frankly stated, because it is German rather than patriotic. The Magyar domination of the Hungarian army would prove the last blow to the illusion of German predominance in the dual monarchy, and hence is as anathema in Vienna. It will consequently be seen that on this dispute the long growing alienation of Magyars and Germans has reached breaking point.

The confidence of the Paynter managers increases as the caucus draws near. The following from the Frankfort Journal gives the names of several more members who have come out for Paynter:

The announcement of Hon. W. Read Embry, Boyle's Representative in the next General Assembly, that he will vote for Judge Paynter for United States Senator, was a solar plexus blow for Blackburn and his managers.

And there are more to follow. Mr. Embry's card published Friday in his paper, the Danville News, is given below in full, together with signed statements from two other Representatives, who, like Mr. Embry, have been claimed as certain supporters of Senator Blackburn.

They are Hon. John B. Wicker, of the Floyd-Knot-Letcher Legislative District, and Hon. A. J. Thompson, of Meade county. Hon. Henry Cox, of the Morgan-Woelf district, who has been known as one of Judge Paynter's warmest adherents, also issues a card setting forth his reasons for the faith that is in him.

Each of these Representatives pays eloquent tribute to the work of the Democratic administration in redeeming the State from Republicanism by over 37,000 majority at the last election. They condemn the abusive and vicious attacks made by Senator Blackburn upon Governor Beckham and his fellow officials, whose conduct of the State's affairs has been so heartily indorsed and approved by the people of the Commonwealth. These many cards speak for themselves. They are straws and indicate the tidal-wave of Democracy, which will sweep Judge Paynter to victory on the first ballot in the legislative caucuses.

The December National has some excellent illustrations done by M. L. Blumenthal, one of the most promising of the younger American artists.

"Chicago's Street Railway Deadlock" is vigorously discussed by Mayor Dunne, who charges that the banks, newspapers and city council majority are in league to discredit his program and defeat the desire of the people for municipal ownership of the car lines.

Joe Mitchell Chappell's "Affairs at Washington," presents many new and attractive portraits of men and women prominent at the capital. Frank Putnam has a spicy review of "The November Elections."

"Staven's Monterey" is the title of a fascinating literary paper by Charles Warren Stoddard, recalling a little known chapter in the life of the famous poet and story-teller.

NEWSPAPER men in Kentucky are coming into their own at last. Editor Chas. M. Meacham has just been elected Mayor of Hopkinsville. Editor E. E. Woolfolk succeeds Editor S. W. Mcnefee, resigned, as Mayor of Danville. Editor Clarence E. Woods is the Mayor-Elect of Richmond and there are two or three hundred other newspaper men elsewhere in the State who ought to be Mayors, for it is a fact beyond argument that a man who can successfully conduct a newspaper is fitted to manage the affairs of a municipality. Yes, verily, Spencer Courier.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

write Local Applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonic known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces the wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

GAINES-BAKER.

"Most Popular Young Lady" Becomes Mrs. Gaines.

Another of Christian county's prettiest and most lovable girls will be tied to the hymeneal altar to-day. At four o'clock this afternoon, at the pretty home of Mrs. Julia Baker, the bride's mother, Miss Alberta Pendergast Baker will be wedded to Mr. Harry Leigh Gaines. The marriage is the happy culmination of an attachment dating back several years, when the young couple were but little more than school children.

The commodious parlor was beautifully decorated with flowers, ferns and evergreens. The marriage altar was made of potted plants and ferns and two floral links were joined together, instead of the somewhat trifling feature of a marriage bell. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Mattie Sue Browning and the bridal party entered the parlor preceded by the ushers, Messrs. Charlie Stowe and Frank Caudle. The attendants were Mr. Robert U. Gaines and Miss Carrie Stowe Baker, brother and sister of the contracting parties. The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. Jas. A. Kirtley, pastor of the South Union Baptist church. The bride never looked lovelier, attired in a beautiful wedding gown of Paris make. She carried a bouquet of Bride roses and wore a veil. The groom was attired in the conventional suit of black.

This is a good likeness of the beautiful bride-to-be, made when she won the prize in our popular lady contest.

After the congratulations were over, the bridal party left on a round of receptions in their honor. To-night they will be given a dinner at Mr. R. T. Stoves'. Tomorrow they will be dined by Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry and to-morrow evening will go to their future home. They will reside with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. G. Gaines. Thursday evening they will be entertained by Mr. G. Howard Stowe, Miss Baker is one of the four pretty daughters of Mrs. Julia Stowe Baker. She is the third of the quartette to wed. Two or three years ago she won a handsome prize offered by the Kentuckian to the most popular young lady in Christian county, receiving more than 25,000 votes. She is bright and beautiful and of most charming personality.

Mr. Gaines is a son of one of the county's leading citizens and is in every way worthy of the matrimonial prize he has won.

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly wedding presents.

REMODELING CITY BUILDING

Three Nice Offices and a Vault Are to Be Added.

WORK ALREADY BEGUN

No Change to Be Made in City Court Room and Council Chamber.

Yesterday morning City Engineer McClaid commenced the work of remodeling the lower floor of the city building on North Main street. No changes are to be made on the upper floor, but the old engine house is to be converted into three handsome offices for the chief of police, the city clerk and city engineer. Back of the city clerk's office will be the vault. A vault in which to keep the valuable books and papers of the city has been needed for many years. Records have had to be kept in private safes and packed about, until it has been almost impossible at times for the clerk to know exactly where to go and look for a document dating back a few years. Some time since the city purchased a vault entrance with combination lock with the view of making use of it as soon as practicable.

The police headquarters will remain where it is now. The mayor's office will be on the second floor, in the room now occupied by the city engineer.

The city court room will not be changed and the council will meet there as usual. When the work of remodeling is completed our city officials will have better quarters and rooms more commensurate with the growth and advancement of the city. In fact these changes are necessary and should have been made long ago. It has been suggested that the entire building should be heated by steam, but that is a matter that may be considered later.

Two Games This Week.

For Thin Babies

Fat is of great account to a baby; that is why babies are fat. If your baby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby stores as fat what it does not need immediately for bone and muscle. Fat babies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; their fat is laid up for time of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When they are scrawny those nerves are hurt at every ungentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emulsion. It is as sweet as wholesome to them.

'Twas just last year,
And year before,
You raised your fin
And sadly swore
That if you lived
Till this year, you
Would plan a different

December American Boy.

The December American Boy is replete with all the enjoyable reading matter that the boys demand at this holiday season. There are the concluding chapters of Mr. Hawkes' splendid animal story, The Tripod Fox, and of My Four Years at West Point, the letter of which has fired many boys with patriotic fervor. Mr. Lisenbee's story, The Joy Claim, is continued, and the editor gives another of his boyhood experiences in Hank and the Walnuts. A Boy's Christmas Gift tells how one boy brought Christmas joy to a friendless little girl. When the Dyke Went Down is a story of a Canadian boy's rescue from drowning by a cow. In The Prize Offer Frank H. Sweet tells of how a boy, after being confined to his bed by sickness, won a prize. On the Wings of the Wind is a story of the frozen north and relates the pluck and courage of a boy in order to bring assistance to famine stricken and sick villagers. Goosie is a story of the American soldiers in the Philippines and tells how a pet mongoose saved the life of one of Uncle Sam's boys from the bite of a cobra serpent. How Jerry Bate the Hunters is a fine story of how a boy killed a bear which a large party of hunters were searching for. There are 83 illustrations. The subscription price is $1.00 a year. The Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret, that Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Tex. 25c at R. C. Hardwick's drug store.

The Christmas Dinner.

In spite of the fact that the word dyspepsia means literally bad cook, it will not be fair for many to lay the blame on the cook if they begin the Christmas Dinner with little appetite and end it with distress or nausea. It may not be fair for any to do that—let us hope so for the sake of the cook! The disease dyspepsia indicates a bad stomach, that is a weak stomach, rather than a bad cook, and for a weak stomach there is nothing else equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. It gives the stomach vigor and tone, cures dyspepsia, creates appetite, and makes eating the pleasure it should be.

CIRCUIT COURT

Can Be Held in Two Towns in Same County.

The Court of Appeals sustained the act of the last Legislature providing for the holding of Circuit Court in two towns in the same county, where the town not the county seat is the larger. The case went on an appeal from Fulton county. Hickman is the county seat of Fulton, but is a smaller town than Fulton, and is seventeen miles distance from it. A citizen of Hickman brought suit to test the validity of the act of the Legislature. The court affirms the lower court and holds the act is constitutional.

MANY CHANGES WERE MADE.

New Schedule Now in Effect On the Illinois Central Railroad.

ADD TWO FAST TRAINS

Eight Passenger Trains Now Operated On This Division Daily.

Under the new schedule on the Illinois Central, which went into effect Sunday, two new trains were added, in addition to the extension of the run of two trains, between Princeton and Hopkinsville, to Nashville, making eight passenger trains on the line in and out of Hopkinsville daily. The first new train, known as No. 25, the Nashville and Chicago Limited, left Chicago at 5 p. m. Sunday, passed through Hopkinsville at 5:20 this morning, and will arrive in Nashville about 8 o'clock. The Northbound Limited left Nashville at 7 p. m. Sunday, passing through Hopkinsville at 9:45 p. m. This train arrived in Chicago at 9:30 yesterday morning. The Nashville and Princeton accommodation (formerly the Hopkinsville and Princeton accommodation), which left this city at 4:30 p. m., now passes here for Princeton at 7:30 p. m., and the accommodation, which formerly arrived here from Princeton at 9:25 a. m., passes here at 8:15 a. m. for Nashville.

The Paducah and Cairo accommodation departs from this place on the old time, 6:40 a. m., but returning this train arrives at 9:45 p. m., instead of 11 p. m., one hour and fifteen minutes earlier. No. 26, the Evansville and Mattoon Express, out of Nashville, passes Hopkinsville at 11:20 a. m., and the Nashville and Evansville Mail, southbound, passes here at 6:15 p. m.

The route of the new Limited out of Chicago is from Chicago to Mattoon, over what is known as the main line of the Illinois Central. From Mattoon to Evansville the train runs over what was formerly the Peoria, Decatur and Evansville road. From Evansville the train will pass through Hopkinsville and then over what is known as the Tennessee Central into Nashville.

There will be a complete Pullman service from Chicago to Nashville, and the new trains will considerably increase the conveniences of this division of the I. C., as direct connection at Princeton will be made for Paducah, Memphis and New Orleans. For several months the Illinois Central has been putting a great deal of work on the line between Evansville and Hopkinsville, preparatory to running heavy and fast trains over the division. The new time card can be found in this issue of the Kentuckian.

SPEAKER IN TOWN

Both Candidates Visited Hopkinsville Yesterday.

The Speaker of the next House was in the city yesterday. Both of the young men who aspire to the honor were here. Hon. R. W. Miller, of Richmond, came in Sunday night and left on the 9:45 train, after an interview with Representative Herman Southall. Four minutes later Hon. Henry R. Lawrence arrived on an I. C. train and spent a few hours in the city. He is returning from a tour of the state and is filled with confidence. He says he will have anywhere from 40 to 50 votes out of the 74 in the caucus. Mr. Southall, of this county, is one of his strong supporters and after a brief conference with him, Mr. Lawrence returned to Cadiz.

Trenton, Ky., Jan. 24, 1902.—Dr. E. W. Hall, St. Louis, Mo., Dear Sir: Please find enclosed $1 for one bottle of your Texas Wonder. I used one bottle for kidney and bladder trouble. I want the bottle for my wife. It is a real wonder and one of the greatest medicines in the world. I was passing pure blood and one bottle cured me sound and well. You can use my testimonial and photograph if you wish. R. A. Williams, Real Estate Agent.

A Texas Wonder.

One small bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, diabetes, seminal emissions, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in men and women and regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. One small bottle is two months treatment and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Dr. E. W. Hall, sole manufacturer, P. O. Box 829, St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonial. Sold by all druggists and R. C. Hardwick, Hopkinsville.
